F. B. Miller of Red River, county, Texas, whose coming was mentioned by our New Home correspondent last week, tells us that he will defer locating for a time and try to get several of his old neighbors and friends to come out, when they will try to locate together. Mr. Miller is very much pleased with the Valley. He not only decided to locate here himself, but will endeavor to induce others to come, believing that it is a good proposition.

Louis H. Bauck and E. W. Carpenter of Emmetsburg, Iowa, have been here several days during the past week, and filed on homesteads east of McIntosh. They have returned home, but will return within the six months period to establish residence on their claims. They were accompanied by H. M. Horton of Emmetsburg, who came on a prospective trip.

Mr. Brown reports crops in good condition around Lucia, and some fields unusually fine. Mr. Hazelrig has an especially fine field of millet, and also a nice field of corn.

The few fruit trees in the Valley that have arrived at bearing age give evidence that this will be one of the finest fruit countries in the world. It is a pity that so very few trees were planted by the first settlers. R. L. Porter has one Early Harvest apple tree that came into bearing this year. The apples are now ripe, and they are as fine in every respect as ever grew. They are considerably larger than the average of that variety, nearly every apple is perfectly formed, and the flavor and quality cannot be excelled.

S. W. Hightower brought in a bunch of wheat last Saturday that is as fine as can be found in any country. It is a smooth head spring variety. The heads are extraordinarily long, and well filled. It is hard and looks like Turkey Red. The straw will average four feet in height. There are ten acres in the piece, and Mr. Hightower puts the yield at not less than 200 bushels. Others put it higher, but Mr. Hightower is conservative in his estimates. He also has fine oats, corn and barley. His farm is six miles west and three miles south of Estancia.

Mr. and Mrs. George Alter were up from Willard Tuesday.

A most delightful afternoon was enjoyed by all and all regretted the departure of two highly esteemed members.

Sam R. Edwards is enjoying a visit from his father whose home is at Eureka, Kansas. Mr. Edwards is very much interested in this section of the country and thinks land here at present prices will pay well on the investment. The new Chautauqua committee is already on the job and is planning big things for next year. The dates have been fixed beginning August 12 and arrangements started to have Winfield, Kansas, Chautauqua end just before ours begins and Prescott, Arizona, to follow. This would allow talent to go from one to the other in consecutive order and by employing the same talent it is thought that not only a better grade of talent may be secured but also at a much lower price. The early settlers of Mountainair were all from Winfield and a "Winfield Day" has been suggested and the idea may be carried out. Winfield has the best band, outside of Kansas City, in the southwest and if this plan goes through the band will come and be here during the entire session. Secretary Henning of what the legislature in January does to him and Albuquerque also wants another chance to "make good." Mrs. A. H. Garnett of Estancia has suggested a plan to get the club women of New Mexico behind the Chautauqua and if this can be done the New Mexico State Chautauqua will soon be the biggest thing that ever happened. With the impetus imparted by the meeting just closed and the interest now being taken by the best people all over the new state, as never before, it looks as if Chautauqua had come to stay.
